A Special Note to the Hornets

Greetings Hornets! I hope that you are taking care of yourselves, meeting new friends, and enjoying your classes. Mid-terms can be a time filled with anxiety, but also an exciting time because it marks the mid-way point of the semester. I encourage you to meet with faculty when you have challenges or questions, as you continue to be enlightened in your courses.

I also ask that you find an outlet on or off campus to be engaged with, explore new things, learn a new skill, or serve in some capacity. This is how you grow into a well-rounded person-- beyond the classroom.

I hope you have a fantastic week. Stingers up!
