Introduction

Hello Hornets!

Welcome to week 7! I hope exam season has not overwhelmed you too much. Be sure to get any help needed from the support and tutoring services on campus such as PARC. If you are looking for places to destress and spend some downtime, check out my Instagram for Biz Clubs, Events, and Campus Opportunities.

*You're all the best,
Juliette Lopez*

College Updates

The College of Business (COB) has been trying to think optimistically and creatively about how we can approach what the future holds. From college mergers to the increase of AI technology, the COB has been working very hard to ensure Sac State students are prepared for whatever field they want to pursue a career in, including but not limited to offering as many labs as possible for MIS and Business Analytics. Nothing has been finalized within the COB, and many more discussions are to come.

News

On February 26th I attended the Business Advisory Council Meeting. Where I had the honor of representing the student body. We discussed a handful of what the College of Business has been proposing. I spoke up about how unsure and even upset some students are with the new AI innovations, the disappearance of entry level positions and an increase of unemployment leaves students anxious. We must ensure that whatever steps are taken with the COB keep students of today and tomorrow in the front of our minds and root of our decisions.

Committee Updates

Finance and Budget Committee – Reviewed and voted on approving the ASI Student Employee Grant. Had presentations done from the ASI Food Pantry and the ASI Student Government departments to review their projected budgets for the 2025-2026 school year.

Student Academic Senate – Had discussions covering budget cuts, college mergers, and overall student concerns. One meeting had the provost present to address concerns. The Hornet Launch Advisory Committee had a question-and-answer session with students to ensure Hornet Launch performs the best it can.

Strategic Priority Updates
