(1 TICKET)

Noah Marty & Donna “BasicTaq” Walters

Sac State wants to “redefine the possible,” but it takes more than one person’s voice to make a difference. We need campus-wide collaboration and community backing to move forward with change. My name is Noah Marty, and I am teaming up with Donna “BasicTaq” Walters to make this happen. As the current Associated Students, Inc. (ASI) Vice President of University Affairs, voting member for the California State Student Association, former Vice President of Outreach and current Political Director for student organizations both here on campus and statewide, I have gained experience at multiple levels of student government and club leadership. I’ve also held a position at every level of ASI, starting as an interested student, then committee member, next an intern, then a staff member and committee chair, and now in my current role as an Executive on the ASI Board of Directors. I’ve seen this organization from every angle and want to ensure our student leaders have the support they need to succeed. With Donna’s experience as ASI’s Interim Executive Vice President and current ASI Director of Business Administration, a 2020 Dean’s Award Recipient, and major player in bringing a thriving esports scene to our campus and the Big Sky Athletic Conference, she not only knows what is needed to reduce barriers and create environments where student voices are actively heard, but she puts ideas into motion and takes action to represent the underrepresented. We are the most qualified team, because in our current roles we are both already actively making improvements to campus life and higher education. As the new ASI President and Executive Vice President (EVP), we will be able to further our efforts and create larger spaces for all students to be heard. Whether representation means advocating at the Capitol to expand support for housing and homelessness, reform financial aid, or taking student feedback directly to the highest levels at Sac State, we will work to support all Sac State students’ needs equitably. As your President and EVP, we will always welcome questions about our roles in ASI and our efforts to promote inclusivity. We plan to implement policies to provide better support for student clubs and organizations so that student leaders can successfully grow their communities. We will increase both academic and career opportunities by working towards addressing impaction, increasing access to alumni networks, and providing strong leadership to the college directors on our ASI Board. We are dedicated to continuing our efforts towards advancing the support of basic needs and student safety initiatives by collaborating with more departments across campus. Finally, we promise to engage our campus members through a larger and more active ASI presence, and ensure all our business is as transparent as possible to our students. On April 15th and 16th, we ask that you vote for us so that we can continue to strengthen our collective voice, enact the change that is needed for better representation, and serve all Sac State students equitably.

VICE PRESIDENT OF UNIVERSITY AFFAIRS
(3 CANDIDATES)

Marissa Hagerman

Hello Hornets! My name is Marissa Hagerman and I am excited to announce my candidacy to be your next Vice President of University Affairs. As a representative of YOUR voice, I will enhance student success and wellbeing by advocating for more accessible mental health and basic needs services, promote a safe and inclusive campus, and empower clubs and organizations to raise their engagement with students. I believe that supporting our community in these ways will help students achieve their goals and pursue their passions! In addition, I will mobilize our university's sustainability initiatives by increasing student involvement in the Green Team while also educating the campus community. Climate change will impact everyone and I will work to ensure the safety, success, and wellbeing of our most vulnerable students. Throughout my college career, I have displayed a passion for public service and helping others like when I rallied to close the achievement gap among disadvantaged groups on campus during my first year as an undergraduate. Since then, I have coauthored resolutions in support of the pink tax, served as the Executive Assistant to a past VPUA, coordinated with University officials on a campus carbon tax proposal, and approved committee grant applications on the ASI Finance and Budget Committee. I am tried and true, and the best fit to represent YOUR voice this coming year!

Through these involvements, I have realized that I love working with students, and helping them be more involved is my passion. Through my understanding, I believe the Vice President of University Affairs makes sure that students voice is represented on the university committees and students can provide their feedback on the policies that are being implemented. VICE PRESIDENT OF UNIVERSITY AFFAIRS
(3 CANDIDATES)

Coleton Matics

My name is Coleton Matics, and I am running for Vice President of University Affairs. For the 2019 to 2020 academic year, I was elected as the ASI Director of Health and Human Services. In this position, I organized events and meetings for the students within the College of HHS, and sat on several committees dedicated to the safety and well being of students. I formed close relationships with the Dean and Associate Deans within the college, and advocated for more professional development opportunities for students. While holding this position, I have been Sac State's CNSA Pre-Nursing Representative for the past two years. In this position, I have worked diligently to represent the voice of pre-nursing students to the faculty and administration of the Nursing Department. Through CNSA, myself along with other delegates represented our university at the state level in Visalia. At this conference, we voted on by-laws and propositions that affect students nationally. Through my experiences here at CSUS and in the medical field, I have seen first hand how beneficial it is for students to have the basic resources and information necessary to direct them towards a path of success. As Vice President of University Affairs, I will strive to put on career centered events for all colleges at Sac State and work to provide students with the basic resources they need in order to succeed. I believe in order to properly represent the students at Sac State, effective communication between the board, departments, and student body is necessary

Hi Hornets ! My name is Leonor Victoria and I am running to be your Vice President of Academic Affairs. My involvement with internships and various student led activist organizations on campus have helped me enhance my leadership skills, civic engagement skills, self-advocacy skills, and empowerment skills. My involvement with the Dreamer Resource Center as a peer mentor has allowed me to help students overcome the unique challenges that get in the way of achieving academic, personal and professional goals. My participation in Puente & Mujeres Ayudando La Raza and other multicultural clubs on campus have allowed me to create a network of support, provide students with opportunities and resources to connect with Sac State, help raise awareness of the educational, social and political issues that minority and underrepresented populations experience, and contribute back to our campus and community through community services. My mission and goals are centered on education, advocacy, and student empowerment. I want to be able to represent you and voice your needs. Samantha Elizalde

My name is Samantha Elizalde, and I am running to be your next Vice President of Academic Affairs. Leading the student body and encouraging others to become advocates has been a great passion of mine and I would like to continue to do so in this new role. I started off my journey at Sacramento State representing students in the residence halls. Through this experience I was able to gain the knowledge and tools to run successfully for my current position as Director of Social Sciences and Interdisciplinary Studies for ASI. I have had the privilege to represent the students of the SSIS college and the rest of our diverse student body. I sit on several committees where my top priority is advocating for student needs. I revitalized the SSIS Joint Council initiative where I listened to my constituents and relayed their concerns to the dean of our college. During my term I have focused on addressing student basic needs, mobilizing college voters, advocating for environmental sustainability, and unifying the college of SSIS. I am highly qualified for this position because of my experiences and passion for advocating for students. In this position I hope to break the barriers between students, faculty, and administration. My top priority will be to create open lines of communication to ensure the student voice is being represented on our campus. This will promote student success and make us more unified as hornets. VICE PRESIDENT OF ACADEMIC AFFAIRS
(3 CANDIDATES)

Trevor Robinson

I decided to run to be your Vice President of Academic Affairs because I felt that this university was far short of realizing its true potential. I believe we can greatly improve this campus in part by electing people who understand and have suffered the same issues we've been facing. I'd like to think that I am one of those people. For the last two years, I have been an active student at Sacramento State. I have lived on campus, attended several university events, and met a wide range of unique individuals. Through this time, I have been disappointed with the lack of outreach from our student government, and frustrated with aspects of many student run programs. I will not lie and claim that I will solve everything and make this campus a paradise, but I do promise that if you elect me I will always remember to listen to you, the ones who put me in my position, and that I will help push for the changes that you need. I will not put the best interests of the board of trustees, or faculty, or anyone else before you, my fellow students paying thousands of dollars for the resources this university is supposed to provide. So if you feel the way I do, and you put your trust in me to represent you, I think together, we can make this university a much better place than it is now. Thank you for your consideration.

We Deserve Better

DIRECTOR POSITIONS

DIRECTOR OF ARTS & LETTERS
(2 CANDIDATES)

Joseph Sais

My name is Joseph Sais, and I am running to be your Director of Arts and Letters. Throughout the past two years, I have crafted my abilities to ensure I am the leader A&L needs. As a journalist and actor, I am motivated to be a voice for the voiceless. On a daily basis, I concentrate to promote the ideas of self-love and confidence in students. I have been involved to create a change for Sacramento State, such as river clean ups, tutoring and embracing a positive outlook on campus. Currently, there is a massive issue that effects many students in A&L, and that is under-funding. Students should not have to worry about a building being up to code or how they will pay for their supplies. As Director, I will fight to the best of my abilities to ensure students' needs are being met. I want students' issues to be addressed with open dialogue. If you want passion, then I am the right candidate. If you want to be loud, I will hear with open ears. As director of A&L, there needs to be communication. I want to create student-led events where passions and voices come together. I will be the support that students need, so being able they can network and foster their academic future. Together, we will grow and have our voices stand as one!

Be Loud! Be Heard!

If you elect me as Director, I will sit on two university committees as well as an external committee and promise to fulfill my duties as Director to the best of my ability. I need you on April 15 and 16 to have a strong showing at the polls so that I can begin addressing your issues once and for all. Leave the A&L to Me!

DIRECTOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
(2 CANDIDATES)

Tiffany Poedyasmara

My name is Tiffany Poedyasmara and I am running for Director of Business Administration. I am currently a third year student here at Sacramento State. Over the past three years I have been involved with Circle K International, where I am currently serving on the Executive board and have been elected to serve again in the 2020-2021 term. Through this organization, I learned how important it is to become more involved on campus and in your community, and the value of providing helpful resources and leadership opportunities to all students. I have noticed there are a plethora of business resources our campus offers, however many students are unaware or are hesitant to participate. If elected as Director of Business Administration, my goal would be to effectively promote important resources, such as networking events, scholarships, and job and internship opportunities, to all business students. Another goal is to ensure that students feel like their voice matters and is being heard. I plan on achieving these goals by building personal relationships with students and organizations, and being an available resource to all business students. With these relationships, I will listen for the wants and needs of business students and inform the ASI Board to ensure important concerns are addressed. I will create opportunities based on these needs and encourage students to become more involved on campus and take advantage of these opportunities to grow towards their goals. I hope you will vote for me on April 15th and 16th.

DIRECTOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
(2 CANDIDATES)

Through my experiences on campus, I know how important it is for Business majors to get into their major, study well, and finally get a job. I want to ensure that students know about the resources that College of Business offers for them to have a good GPA, get advisors to make sure they get into the major and have networks and information related to career opportunities. I will direct a joint council for Business clubs to make sure students can be involved. My first step will be to make sure all students in CBA know the resources that CBA offers, like the Business tutoring center, the lab, and various mentoring programs. I will also make certain that students have my support in building great resumes. Finally, as extracurriculars and NACE skills are becoming important requirements for recruiters, I will communicate these to students and tell them how to get these skills. So, on April 15 and 16, please vote. Being a rising networking student and having completed my Leadership Initiative, I hope you will vote for me.

Plan your success

DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION
(1 CANDIDATE)

Danielle Cochran

My name is Danielle Cochran and I am running for Director of Education. I am a first-generation college student, similar to many of you. I knew early on that I wanted to work with kids and help guide them to become compassionate, hard working citizens of society. I have volunteered at the ASI Children's Center and have worked with children for about 4 years.

Through my experiences on campus, I know how important it is to stay connected and be involved in the many decisions that are made. I want to represent the students so that as one we can always let our voices be heard. I want to dedicate my time to not only represent the student body, but to serve you, as a student. It is my ultimate goal to support you students through your experiences on campus, to try to change or maintain our campus being a positive and safe space for all, and to make sure all your voices are heard. I care deeply about this University and am eager to make it better. My experiences working with kids has shaped me into a positive, approachable, understanding, and flexible individual that is eager to make an impact. It has also shown me the value of making relationships with others that allow us to help each other grow. My dream to be an educator often highlights that children are our future, but students are also valuable assets in our community. It would be a privilege to be able to serve the students of the community so that we can build a better future and continue to help each other to succeed and thrive never be silenced

DIRECTOR OF ENGINEERING & COMPUTER SCIENCE

Kobe Charles

My name is Kobe Charles and I am running for Director of Engineering and Computer Sciences. Being a cohort in the Hornet Leadership Program, a campus tour guide, Jenkins Hall Council President and an ECS Lab Assistant have greatly prepared me for this position. But leadership isn't just about the accommodations you have, it's about your morals and the goals, you want to achieve. Because it takes a community to make an impact on the world around us, empowering each other is important. And I know how to empower students and encourage them to better themselves, so they can excel in more ways than just academics. As the Director of Engineering and Computer Sciences, I will aim to better our community. Working directly with ECS Computing Services and speaking with the dean regularly has informed me about the division on our campus. But, by creating more collaboration between departments, we will develop a community of students who will make changes to better our college. Advocating for opportunities, and funding events we all enjoy will create empowered individuals who know what they can achieve. Universally, I want to create a college that's more collaborative, so everyone is aware of the opportunities we all have creating unity, diversity, and a voice for everyone. By voting for me you'll be supporting campus unity, which can create impacts beyond campus life.

Collaboration Nation

DIRECTOR OF ENGINEERING & COMPUTER SCIENCE
(3 CANDIDATES)

Garima Sharma

My name is Garima Sharma and I am running for the director of The College of Engineering and Computer Science. I understand, that having this position on ASI board means being a campus-wide student lead. And as an orientation Leader at Sac State, I am resourceful with connections and always willing to roll with the punches. Also being involved with clubs on campus have made me realize that ECS students are less involved in campus activities and also less aware of the resources being provided by campus which is helpful for marketing and can help them to be DIVERGENT. My aim is to make sure ECS students are aware of the opportunities knocking at their doors. And to achieve the same I want to involve the students not only in tech clubs but also in campus committees and other activities. I want the students to get the best out of the available resources and bring to the board the concerns to set up the required ones. I hope you will vote for me in the ASI Elections as I believe I am a best fit candidate for the position

Network Works!

DIRECTOR OF ENGINEERING & COMPUTER SCIENCE
(3 CANDIDATES)

Karla Lozada

My name is Karla Lozada and I am running for Director of Engineering & Computer Sciences. I am part of the Computer Science program and I know the struggles students go through. I want to be a voice to students that want to see a change in the Engineering & Computer Science Department. As a member of the Hornet Leadership Program, I've learned strategic planning, teamwork and the importance of being involved in campus. Many decisions are made every day which can affect students, so I want to ensure that students will have a voice in the department's decisions. I am running for this position because I want to help students in the department find solutions for their concerns about grades, dropping courses, major applications, job opportunities, and club support. My first step is to facilitate clubs' needs by making sure these clubs have the opportunity to get all the funding they need. Also, I want to find ways to improve students' resources for their academic and professional success. Finally, I will ensure that the ASI Board and the Dean of the Engineering & Computer Science know about issues students have in the department so that ASI can be proactive in addressing student concerns. I share the same passion of technology and problem-solving. Therefore, I would be honored to represent the student's body so that we are heard and problems get fixed. If you're looking to elect the most passionate, dedicated and proactive candidate, vote Karla Lozada for Director of Engineering & Computer Sciences.

ECS IS OUR PASSION

DIRECTOR OF HEALTH & HUMAN SERVICES
(1 CANDIDATE)

Alejandro Buenrostro

My name is Alejandro Buenrostro and I am running to be your next Director of Health and Human Services. I am a bay area native by birth, a Sacramentonian by choice, and hornet by virtue. I am equipped with a plethora of leadership skills and experiences to aid me in my mission to better not only the College of Health and Human Services but Sacramento State as a whole. In my time at Sac State I have seen us excel in so many different arrays from sports to academics, however, I am someone who holds the conviction that more can always be done.

With that being said, If given the opportunity, I would love to address topics such as: diminishing financial burdens, safety concerns, inequality, and low student/community engagement. The Executive Director of Communications position I held at my community college has given me an abundance of experience when handling: issues facing the student body, how to effectively assuage such issues, proactively identifying concerns, conducting advocacy work, ensuring equality, and promoting personal and academic success. Additionally my officer roles in organizations such as Queer-Straight Alliance, Biology Club, and Pre-Nursing Club have instilled within me the management skills to not only run normal routines and operations but be able to provide an enriching experience to my constituents. I am passionate about bettering our lives and experiences as hornets; you can aid me in being #hivehearted in the upcoming election on April 15th and 16th by voting for me. Thank you, sincerely yours, AB.

DIRECTOR OF SOCIAL SCIENCES AND INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES
(1 CANDIDATE)

Ashley Iyabo Momoh

My name is Ashley Iyabo Momoh and I am running for Director of Social Sciences and Interdisciplinary Studies. Born in the East Bay, CA. My time at Sierra showed me the importance of getting involved on campus in programs and clubs like DSPS, Rise program's Black Excellence, and the multi-cultural center which I credit my success to. This insight of communities on campus whose missions are to guarantee the success of students inspired me and gave me the confidence that I can reach any goal I set my mind to, no matter what doubt the world tries to project on me. Being a student employee for two years at Sierra and my first semester here at California State University, Sacramento has given me a plethora of opportunities to connect with students, faculty, and the community around campus. Currently, I work for the Sac State Planetarium as a field trip host, am a member of the City Ambassadors, an Associated Student Incorporated University Committee, and the African Student Association. My passion for advocacy is what led me to join organizations that act as voices for students that have gone unheard. My first step would be to gladly take a large chunk of the responsibility of investigating issues that our student body currently faces in today's challenging environment by relationship building. I hope you would vote for me because I will voice the often under-represented marginalized communities that our student body encompasses.

DIRECTOR OF UNDECLARED STUDENTS
(3 CANDIDATES)

Maanvee Mehrotra

Hello Fellow Hornets My name is Maanvee Mehrotra, and I am running to be your next Director of Undeclared Students. To be able to represent students at large, one has to have a positive influence and dedication to the success of fellow students. I discovered these traits that encouraged me to run for office through my experience as a student assistant for the Office of The President, vice president of International Student Life, president for the International Friends Association and vice-chairing the ASI Finance and Budget Committee. I have a natural inclination towards helping and encouraging others to succeed. We at Sacramento State are always encouraging students to push their boundaries to discover their interests. I am aiming to continue these efforts for undeclared students by connecting them to correct resources which would include academic advising, reaching out for necessary guidance and holding events with different entities. This would help them tailor their decisions which would, in turn, help them to find a major to pursue. I believe myself to be the most qualified candidate because of my experience as an undeclared student, which led me to branch out to the resources on campus. If elected, I will work towards the growth of my fellow students and become the voice that is by the students and for the students. I understand the struggles of being a student and I am certain if we all work together as a team we can go far, in the desired direction. Let us all win together. Undeclared, not Underestimated.

DIRECTOR OF UNDECLARED STUDENTS
(3 CANDIDATES)

Sadia Ashraf

My name is Sadia Ashraf and I am running for Director of Undeclared Students. I am part of the Honors Program Committee here on campus in which I serve as the Social Events Coordinator to help plan events and help with logistics. Before that, I served as the Honors Representative. I was also part of the ASI Alcohol Advisory committee where I helped make important decisions regarding the issues on residential life on campus and drug abuse. Through these experiences, I truly learned not only about the importance of quality leadership but also learned what it means to navigate life as an undeclared student. There is often a social stigma on being an undeclared student, yet the possibilities to explore career opportunities are endless. My first step as the Director of Undeclared Students will be to highlight the importance of career explorations by hosting events and workshops pertaining to different interests of the students. In addition, I will make certain that students have the right resources and support in order to be successful. Finally, I will ensure that the Dean of Undergraduate Studies is regularly informed about issues and concerns pertaining to Undeclared Students. I love Sacramento State. I cannot express the amount of unconditional love and support I have received from everyone, and I believe it is my time to pay it forward. I sincerely hope you make the right decision by voting for me since I believe I am the most qualified candidate.

DIRECTOR OF UNDECLARED STUDENTS
(3 CANDIDATES)

Sabrina Fernandez

My name is Sabrina Fernandez and I am running for Director of Undeclared Students. I work for Sacramento State's Admissions & Outreach office as a graphic design student ambassador and am currently expressing interest in the Graphic Design program. As a member of the GE Honors Program, I am exposed to boundless opportunities that allow me to stay involved with the campus community. Being an undeclared student, I realize that many students are unaware of the many resources offered to them to aid them in the journey to finish in four. I know how important it is to make decisions in college, especially when we are unsure about the path we want to follow. In this position, I will advocate resources to the students and empower them to voice their needs in order to become future leaders. I will begin by researching to meet the needs of current students to capitalize on what ASI should fund. In doing so, we can create events and fairs that cater to their interests and enhance their overall college experience. Furthermore, I will also highlight the various tools that ASI offers like employment, local, state, and federal advocacy, and committees in order to broaden perspectives and support the concerns of students. By voting for me, we will open windows of opportunities that enrich student life at Sacramento State.

Making It For Us

DIRECTOR OF GRADUATE STUDIES
(1 CANDIDATE)

Robert Moon

My name is Robert Moon, and I am running to be the next Director of Graduate Studies. I am a first-semester graduate student in Communication Studies who did my undergrad at Sacramento State as well. Despite being a graduate student, I am also a high school dropout who has overcome challenges in my life. After graduating from Modesto Junior College, I welcomed my beautiful daughter into the world. As a high school dropout being here at Sacramento State has been a great opportunity for me. On campus, I am part of the Anime & Manga Society and the Japan Club. I also spent the last two semesters writing for The State Hornet. Spending the last two semesters with The State Hornet made me realize that I wanted to be more involved on campus. As the next Director of Graduate Studies, I hope to make a difference at Sacramento State to help current and future graduate students. With this semester's difficulties related to the coronavirus, it's more important now than ever to make sure that your voice is heard on campus. If elected, I will make sure that the concerns of graduate students are heard to the best of my abilities and I will always be available to my fellow students. If being a part of The State Hornet taught me anything it taught me that students have a lot of concerns and don't always have the information necessary to understand the issues at hand. I will do my best to make sure that Sacramento State remains welcoming to all students and especially graduate students. Vote Moon and together we'll reach for the stars

Cash for Clubs

Cash for Clubs is a program of ASI where clubs and organizations can receive funding by voting in the annual ASI Elections. Any officially recognized club or organization can apply by completing the Cash for Clubs application and submitting by the deadline. Each time students vote in favor of any club/organization, that organization receives $2 for every vote. Voters may vote on behalf of only one club/organization and it is not necessary to be a member of the club chosen. Participating in this program does not take away eligibility from programs such as Dollars for Organization and Clubs (DOC).
