

Vice President of University Affairs Board Report

Amaka Okam

Over the last few weeks, I have been working hard to further understand my position and find meaningful ways to better engage with and listen to the student body. I have learned the importance of collaboration and innovation in this role. This position continues to challenge me, and I am learning every day how to grow and improve. I am also expanding my network and striving to strengthen the skills I already have while developing new ones.

With that, below I will list the dates in which I met with representatives and attended events that reflect my ongoing efforts to serve students.

07.16.25 – Met one-on-one with the EVP and President to discuss my goals and vision for my position, as well as ways they can further support me.

07.21.25 – Met with Bill Olmstead, Director of the Union WELL, to discuss my role as a committee member and gain a deeper understanding of the committee's purpose.
