A Special Note to Our Hornets

Dear Hornets,

As we reach the middle of the fall semester, I hope everyone is doing well. This is my favorite time of year, I love the cool crisp air and the beautiful fall foliage. In my opinion, that our campus looks its best this time of year. I encourage everyone to take time, and to marvel the colorful trees we have on campus.

I strongly advocate for student mental health and wellness. Being a student isn't easy, especially during midterms. During these hectic times...remember to take care of yourself. Don't defer proper sleep and diet while studying. Furthermore, remember that it's OK TO NOT BE OK. If things become unbearable, seek help! There is a multitude of wonderful people and resources that aim to serve students and support their mental health.

Internal Committee Updates

ASI Green Team

The Green has been active this month. During our first meeting this month, a group of students from the college of Engineering and Computer Science presented their senior project. Their project aims to build a trash collecting robot that could autonomously collect trash from river and lakes in the Sacramento region. The group is planning to test their invention at the Sac State Aquatic Center. Furthermore, during our second meeting of the month, the Green Team collected commonly recycled single-use-products from local food vendors on campus and we are planning to use them to make recycling signs that are more effective.

University Committee Updates

Anchor University Advisory Council

The Anchor University Advisory Council has also made great progress this month. During the October meeting, Stephanie Francis presented on the Universities College Corps program. This program yields professional development by engaging students in a community service-learning experience. Furthermore, the council discussed the Institutionalization Assessment Survey and brainstormed event ideas for the spring.

Strategic Priority Updates

Since the ASI strategic priorities were approved by the board on 9/14, I have started to work in partnership on priorities 2.1.1, 2.1.3 and 2.1.4 with other board members. In support of priority 2.1.1, the ASI Board approved Legislation No. 2022/2023-09-28 to provide resources at an event hosted by Student Health and Counseling Services. In support of priority 2.1.1 the ASI Board will be discussing Legislation No.: 2022/2023-10 that will provide resources for a student resource assessment.
