A Message to my Constituents

Hornets,

I hope you are having an amazing start to the Spring 2022 semester! After two weeks of virtual instruction, it is great to be back in-person and on campus. For my first board report of the Spring semester, I would like to mention that the Student Health and Counseling Services is available for appointments and offers counseling, health, pharmaceutical, sexual violence support, and wellness education services for students. The ASI Food pantry on campus is open five days a week and offers food and basic necessities to students at no cost.

As a reminder, make sure to receive your Covid-19 booster by February 28, 2022 (or when you become eligible for the booster, whichever date is later). N-95 masks are available to employees and students at the following campus locations: University Union (information desk) Police Department, Welcome Center, Library (checkout counter), Folsom Hall (front desk). There will be a hybrid Covid-19 Town Hall on February 16th from 11:30am to 12:30pm.

I encourage all students to attend the Anti-racism and Inclusion Convocation taking place virtually on Monday, February 14, from 9:00am to 3:00pm. As always, if you or a student you know are experiencing any hardships and require assistance do not hesitate to reach out to myself or another board member. We are here to assist you!
