Special Note for Hornets:

Hello Hornets,

Welcome to a new semester! I hope the start of your courses is going well, and that you're settling into the rhythm of your academic journey. As we continue with the semester, remember that challenges are part of growth—whether in your classes or beyond. Please know that I'm here to support you, and I encourage you to use all the resources available to you. Whether it's academic help, involvement in campus activities, or simply having someone to talk to, don't hesitate to reach out. This board is one of the many ways to stay informed and engaged. As we go through the semester, I encourage you to get involved in the community—whether it's joining committees, attending events, or participating in student life. Let's make this journey one of personal growth and community connection.

I'm excited to see all that you'll achieve this year. We're here to cheer you on and support your success!
