Hello Hornets!

I hope everyone is having a wonderful fall semester so far and that midterms treated you well! As we move further into the semester, there are still more events and opportunities coming up to stay engaged and connected within our Hornet community.

I'm continuing my commitment to strengthening community within SSIS and making sure students know about all the ways ASI can support them, whether that's basic needs resources, leadership development, or funding for student-driven projects, events, and initiatives.

There's so much happening across campus right now, and I encourage everyone to jump into the events and opportunities that speak to you. Whether you're joining clubs, attending workshops, or just showing up for community spaces, your presence helps make our community stronger.

I can't wait to see the amazing things you'll all achieve as we wrap up the semester. Wishing you all the best as finals approach, stay focused, stay positive, and remember that you've got this. Let's finish the semester strong, Hornets!

All the best,

Jonathan P.
