Hello Hornets! 🐝

Welcome back, and happy Spring semester! I hope your winter break gave you time to rest, recharge, and spend meaningful moments with the people who matter most. As we start this new semester, whether you're looking for community, guidance, or opportunities to grow, ASI is here to support.

This spring, I'm continuing my commitment as your SSIS Director to strengthen connection within our Hornet community and make sure you're aware of all the ways ASI can support you, whether that's basic needs resources, leadership development, or funding for student-driven projects, events, and initiatives. There are so many exciting events, programs, and ways to get involved across campus, and I encourage you to explore what speaks to you. Your voice and your presence truly make our community stronger.

As the semester picks up, please remember to take care of yourselves. Stay organized, prioritize your well-being, and don't hesitate to reach out for support when you need it.

I'm excited to see all the amazing things you'll accomplish this spring. Let's make it a semester full of growth, connection, and Hornet pride.

Stingers up!! YAYY!!
