A Special Note to Our Hornets:

Good Afternoon, Good Morning, Good day!

Whatever time zone or day you are reading this from Hornets, I just want to acknowledge you for coming this far into the Fall 2021 semester.

As we so vividly remember, the last few months have been nothing but eventful and historic. But the highlight of it is that YOU got through it and YOU are moving forward.

During this time in which we continue to recover, we must continue to celebrate the little victories and the little things in life; whether it was you getting up in the morning to be productive, or getting an A on your first semester midterm, or even treating yourself to Starbucks on a Monday morning.

Celebrate life, celebrate your victories, celebrate YOU!

Laura De la Garza Garcia.
Director of Social Sciences and Interdisciplinary Studies.
